

February 27, 2007 – Kinshasa, Democratic Republic of Congo

Dearest Friends,

We're here! Marty and I arrived in Kinshasa just ahead of schedule last Thursday, Feb. 22nd. It is good to be back and getting ready to go up country this week or the first of next. God is undertaking for us and we are eager to be in Lodja.

The last couple of weeks in the States were a little hectic, but satisfying. We were able to get supplies and equipment loaded in a container coming to the DR Congo and to speak in several Churches, where we were warmly received. Our support has been coming together and we are encouraged, even if we are not yet fully funded. The Lord provided the funds for our vehicle and the order has been placed. Delivery is suppose to be at Matadi in July. That is a big "PTL"

We have tried to get our e-mail addresses all up to date and hope that we haven't left anyone out. If for any reason any of you have gotten on our list by mistake, please let us know and we will be glad to remove you from our updates. We will have occasional e-mail even when we get to Lodja and will enjoy hearing from any of you who feel inclined to write.

We've talked with friends in Lodja and it seems that the people there are as eager for us to get there as we are. The days ahead will be full of challenges as well as opportunities and we need your prayers as we engage both.

With Love, Paul and Marty Law
